

University of
Zurich UZH

Department of Economics – Neuroeconomics Seminar

April 29, 2021 - 17:00 - 18:00

Clinton Davis-Stober
University of Missouri

Investigating rational decision making across multiple domains

I consider what it means to be a rational decision maker. Specifically, I focus on various mathematical definitions whose aim is to characterize risky decision making via mathematical representations, specifically transitivity of preference and random utility. I report on multiple empirical studies exploring whether individuals make rational decisions, spanning: risky sexual decision making, decision making under alcohol impairment, and several others.